

Migrating to Workday for Improved Healthcare Operations

Challenge

A major university medical center that operates multiple hospitals, clinics, and other facilities sought to modernize its systems by migrating from its legacy enterprise resource planning (ERP) software to Workday and UKG.

While the organization selected a primary implementation partner, they required a supplemental partner to fill critical skill gaps, support the migration, and ensure business continuity throughout the transition.

Solution

INSPIR Solutions partnered with the client to deliver a seamless transition to Workday and UKG while maintaining uninterrupted operations across its healthcare network.

Acting as a strategic implementation partner, we provided specialized expertise to complement the core implementation team and drive measurable outcomes.

Our team deployed experts across Workday, UKG, and the university medical center's legacy systems to streamline integration, strengthen data accuracy, and accelerate project delivery.

INSPIR Solutions' SMEs worked hand-in-hand with internal stakeholders to modernize workflows, manage testing and validation, and ensure compliance across HR, financial, and supply chain operations.

established a scalable foundation for future system growth.

Solution Highlights:

- Supported migration from several legacy platforms to Workday and UKG.
- Streamlined financial, HR, and supply chain operations through process redesign and system integration.
- Deployed highly experienced consultants and SMEs across Workday Financials, HCM, SCM, and more.
- Enhanced data accuracy and testing efficiency through automation and governance oversight.
- Maintained business continuity by supporting legacy systems during the transition.
- Strengthened workforce management capabilities with the new system implementation and optimization.

Outcome

The Workday migration delivered key business benefits and lasting operational improvements:

- Accessibility: Moving to a cloudbased system enabled employees to securely access Workday from any browser or device, streamlining usability across both clinical and administrative environments.

- Efficiency: Workday Help empowered employees to quickly resolve HR-related questions and manage self-service tasks, reducing the volume of support tickets and allowing HR staff to focus on higher-value initiatives.
- Continuity: Our specialists filled key expertise gaps throughout the migration, ensuring consistent progress, smooth system integration, and uninterrupted operations during go-live.
- Optimization: The migration also provided an opportunity to refine and modernize business processes, leading to improved data quality, more reliable reporting, and faster decision-making across departments.
- Sustainability: With INSPYR Solutions' continued post-implementation support, the organization strengthened its internal Workday and UKG proficiency, building a foundation for long-term success and scalability.
